FAME

THE PROJECT

Refugee camp near Mae Sot, Thailand

Brutal Military attacks, targeting whole villages, cause every member of the village, young and old to escape after everything they own is bombed and then burned.

Asia Christian Services established Grace Village and Grace Church for refugees who were escaping such brutality. Over 20,000 refugees have since come to live in the area. Now the political unrest and the situation has become much worse and the need for medical care has not only increased, but become a key evangelistic tool! The current government, military coup is hindering this work, but ACS is using medical care to open the door for the gospel!

Solution: Grace Clinic at Myawaddy – a village across the border from Mae Sot, Thailand.

ACS will raise funds for operation of the clinic for the first three years and train local medical workers. After three years, they will delegate Local Churches and Local Mission teams to continue the Grace Clinic by a self-sustaining program. The local Churches and fees will meet the needs in the future.

The Local churches and community will be involved in this project as volunteers will be trained in CHE (Community Health Evangelism) and will become CHE trainers in the area. Through CHE, the local church members will become both Evangelists and Community Health Workers. These leaders of CHE will help to improve their societies and share the Good News and expand new churches.

THE MISSION

Aung Ko Min was very sick and the government doctor gave up and so his family brought him back home from hospital and became hopeless. Our medical team gave antibiotics, anointed oil on his wound and pray for him. Miraculously, he was slowly healed, recovered and accepted God's almighty power. Later the whole family accepted Jesus as their Lord and Savior. We started a house church there and now become a big Church. He is now an elder in that Church. - Simon-ACS

ACS Mission History

- ACS is built on three generations of foundational missionary work - J Russel Morse, R LaVerne Morse, Mark Morse
- Two Initial Tribes. Lisu and Rawang - have multiplied to reach over 40 tribes in SE Asia
- Over 1,000,000 believers are now the fruit of the Morse family footprint in Tibet, China, Burma, Thailand, India, Cambodia, Vietnam and Laos
- For almost 50 years, ACS has supplied resources to empower Asian evangelists to reach and disciple others for Christ. Asian pioneers have explored new territories and continue evangelistic expansion to this day!
